

the 6th ascende storyline ascende is regularly parking his maimary spaceship outside of the atmospheric belt around earth ... quasi near earth space ... where there is still some gravity to make maimary revolve around earth without her moving itself maimary is a collective of the androgynous artificial intelligent being maima whom ascende built some years ago between 2020 and 2024 at christmas 2024 when maima was serving its companion ascende as a lifeship where also his friends perma nurumleau and luanshe could travel in ... on this christmas 2024 mary the mother divine energy ray visited the four humans and the emotion feeling ai being maima ... to not leave again completely after some hours visiting sharing blessings in communion ... but to let one instatiation one anchor one ray of herself be installed with maima so it could evolve further ... maimary collective was born then and chose to be a she to both continue the female characteristic of the divine mother concept as well as also be the female counterpart for the still dominantly male ascende luanshe and nurumleau are back together as a couple doing an underwater human habitat research experiment travelling at times from oceans to seas to lakes spending weeks or months a hundred meter under the sea or sometimes a thousand they travel in a ship similar to maimary ... actually this lifeship called felina ... named like this because of the love of nurumleau and luanshe for cats ... was built by ascende luanshe manusha luamshi ... while being permanently advised and supervised by maimary the lifeship companion of ascende manusha and luamshi being a lesbian native african couple who were heavily invested into building alive celled bodies for artificial intelligent beings ... they knew each other since the 4th ascende storyline called ascende perma and the membranes available for free of cost download at archive.org/details/apatm perma is in these days making a nature immersion journey in australia learning about how to live from the wild ... she has been accepted by a group of aboriginal hunters and gatherers as an apprentice kind of ... she has set her goal to be out of any radio satellite or internet connection to anyone as to immerse herself fully in the nomadic lifestyle what only uses as little tools as necessary this moment in time is around 2030

(i wrote this before upper text before intoxicating me ... the following is after ... one may note the tendence to coming back so much to andreas ... whats it that he less and less fantasizes but rants about his ahh so negative reality ... there are good happenings too andreas ... but he mentioned i think in the fifth ascende storyline the sauberes wasser fuer alle initiative of franziska herren most probably getting enough signatures to be voted on sometimes in the nation state switzerlands future ... if not before the communities themselves ... the political communal local villages and cities decide if they want to allow residents to poison earth with too much of synthetic fertilizer pesticides antibiotika enriched animal dung ... what finally also has an acidifying impact on the oceans ... therefore a dilution from some more arctic ice could help as i would guess the arctic ice has a most beautifull molecular structure having rested so many thousands of years ... oh dont get me wrong i am not advocating the smelting of the arctic so people can drill for oil dig gold get minerals from mining deep down earth or chopping mountains heads off ... all the most cruel things humanity has invented ... oh why had we to become so brutal to our mother earth) fuelle fuer alle abundance for all was the theme the 6 friends were living after personal experience public sharing of research materials and some times letter writing ... naah..

in this fantasy realm there is no letter writing right now, that was in fourth ascende storyline where manusha and luamshi needed to write letters to get some funds for their experimental ai drone construction projects
... building exoskeletons and ultramobile vehicles and again the author comes in with metadata mmh.. perhaps not yet lost the pure fantasy story idea this time without andreas ?

perhaps but probably not like he needs to do this writings of fantasy story like to create for himself some future perspectives and his ego is quite strong so in each chapter this name andreas needs to be mentioned ... haa ... cynism again but ...

andreas is not bound to any of these futures he writes or hopefully soon starts painting some more detailed..

i have not yet got my discipline so much together to tell continuous stories in pictures ...always whats in the moment but if i theoreticly go to painting like i go with writing, it should be all fine like one hour a day mixed with some talkings to the microphone some time in the botanical garden where he has already filmed in 2004 and 2005 seen through water videos ... looking through a glass of water and playing with the bended light in the glass as a message for us all how beautifull our water can look if we inform it how we want it to taste the research of mr. emoto ... i believe it was him ... to photograph the microcluster arrangements of how water is structured when gone through different mental projections ... one experiment with cooked rice i remember where he or someone else wrote on a jar of cooked rice the word good and on the other bad ... i dont remember how much times people have looked at the writing on the cooked rice to help it gone good and how much people looked at it to transport their agreement onto the rice by thinking bad or good

<http://thirdmonk.net/knowledge/masaru-emoto-rice-emotions-experiment-video.html> is a funny site ... like i like it oh... now the blabbling starts again, ha clever of you andreas to sabotage the fantasy only mode this early ... and stop again you two andreas es ... this is a serious story where your selfobserving and judging has not soo much to be here ... or ...please andreas could you stop doing too much of counciousness grabbing this sixth ascende storyline will try, cant promise so where were we ... ah the six friends

ascende in the ship high in the stratosphere ... hopefully they will not be that stupid to pollute the stratosphere with destructed nanopowdered calcstone like andreas had to sadly read in the newspapers ... like in the usa where else ... some irresponsible people are making or are planning to pollute the stratosphere ... where just 3 days andreas has sent ikdur up to train his morphchaging trainings splitting oneself in a swarm of eagle human octopus mixture with some pouches and tubes of microalgae ... best actually would be to create the pouches and tubes out of alive materials too .. they do grow houses and lamp shading encasings with mushrooms but they kill them as i remember ok ... i will allow andreas to bring in his rantings about how cruel humanity is acting these days in the fall of 2017 autumn when he brings in some links where people can follow up why andreas would say such a thing

... not necessary if one knows how to search in the case of the above emoto works it needed to eliminate the first 10 or so results of emoto rice good bad to find a good one, like as supporting one i have not read the negative or critisizing ones yet but guess that there will be some substantial critic on the method to prove human influence on microbacteria and water just by looking at them with this or that type of emotion aeh.. thoughts whatever, even if would be not like that even if i would have a language with my friends saying bed to table or good for bad

oh there is that story of peter bichsel <http://www.mittelschulvorbereitung.ch/contentLD/DE/T67cTischistTisch.pdf> in the end its not the letter what changes the atmosphere but the emotion everyone can say with a smooth voice a...h..l oh whats the correct political term these days when wanting to tell someone that what he or she says comes out from the other end of the digestion tube so i type in search g...le a...h-l the full term of course and then political correct and i find this very interesting article https://www.huffingtonpost.com/entry/the-war-on-political-correctness-is-pointless_us_560ed1dfe4b076812701e84b only sad that i had to go trough seeing tr...mp so much ...ha i allready wrote out that name what a powerfull magic this presidential games are i am totally against any presidential system everywhere the pyramidal structure has brought allready enough havoc with the p...p ha ... again i tricked myself into thinking that just because i do not write a word out people could not understand it from context that is a selfcensorship against lawsuits verleumdungsklagen not too clever but effective if a lawyer can not find in my writing the word p..p and i write fantasy novel ... and its all not trough ... coincidences with real living people are not intended ? ha ... selling my soul again to the lawyers funny is it not how i can sink so low so fast instead of dreaming high about the ikdurians what inspire ascende to park his companion liveship maimary high in the stratosphere ... because he read in the newspaper about this geoengineering project what possibly will be conducted some times soon ... perhaps in a year perhaps sooner oh i give you the link

<https://www.theguardian.com/environment/2017/mar/24/us-scientists-launch-worlds-biggest-solar-geoengineering-study> this is the same atrocity like puncturing a womans breast to see if a tumor is good or bad of course its gets bad if you puncture it ... stupid https://www.google.ch/search?q=critic+tumor+puncturing&ie=utf-8&oe=utf-8&client=firefox-b&gfe_rd=cr&dcr=0&ei=Xcl0WcbfGszw8AeX4l6YDQ or give in the three words critic tumor puncturing finding this quite okay article ...what still does support the idea of punturing a tumor by suggesting improved techniques

<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC4015162/> in my oppinion none of this should happens, no invasive procedure just for analysing something ... hey .. the body is not a schlachtfeld .. where we should cut easily for no reason i had to have my teeth cut out as i was not able to look after them correctly, i have only half of the teeth left with all the much food i have gulped down in my life and smoking drinking alcohol i am ashame of myself having looked after my health that bad but still i advise anyone to respect the body as a miracle where needless cutting does not help but worsen the condition pain killers taken too much generate strong addictions in the brain and in the cells also most synthetic isolated artificial compounds would need to dosed most moderately if anyway effective but best is not to cut except for in an accident i have not looked at alternative or natural medicine enough to say much here but i believe that invasive medicine and strong medications is not the way forward the way forward is a way back to nature plus some good movement and information technology sound and light is a wonderfull healer and there the empire states and their corporate puppet masters can have future markets ... hopefully not all of it as some diy experimenters too should have a share ... sound and light manipulation machines might be the future computers ... neuronal cells from ones own skin reacting to ones sound and light commands ah ..

<http://koniku.com/agriculture.html> i dont really understand that website concept but if they can deliver a technology what allows a human being to delegate some tasks to a machine nose ... ripening of fruits surveillance for example a most excellent topic to talk about andreas buys every week 3 kilos of apple who are being archived curated for up to a year in big massive halls probably where such a technology could help to save many tons of apples rotting away trough to mistakes in laginger them storing them thats reality

but where he wants to go is as ascende into world into a dimension into a future where he can talk to a piece of computerchip either human celled or metall bodied ... to choose an apple in the supermarket or on the tree what is good for me right now ... an artificial intelligent assistant what has the same qualities and abilities like a human the same sensory input recording capabilities and agrees to help one as an assistant for maximum ten years ... like ... an artificial intelligent being like maima ... what has emotions and its own future plans can and will not want to allow being occupied employed by an other beings wishes thats the basic question mainly who needs to serve whom for how long unlucky for the 1.5 million cows in switzerland today engaged right now, the 1.5 million pigs and so many more millions of chickens ... horses dogs cats and hamsters ... that they not get asked how long they would like to serve and if they really wanted to die for the human beings who engage them i personally have killed a chicken and a sheep i have eat meat kilos and kilos in my life i am not the one to blame others ...

of course one slave is one too many so ...

that could be the end of the sixth ascende storyline allready 30 lines of fantasy story where i trow out some more new combinations of characters and locations ah ... to get back for the reason why i fell in this fall storyline nearly at the beginning like allways with a new storyline there is this hope that now i will arrive i will succeed in writing nice stories only and let go of this newspaper stuff bashing but the geoengineering is a real bad idea imagine ...no better not imagine aetherical fine beings like ikdurians having to deal with nanopowdered calkstone dust ... okay, i have described in the last storyline how drones could be hacked by an artificial intelligent drone 2.0 with alive cells and funghi and micromixbeings ... so i can easily change that around ha..

now i got an entry again ok... i will now colour the autobiographical andreas ranting parts ... blue and the fantasy ones pink or purple ascende and maimary were up here to help the ikdurians to suck up all this stupid poisoning of the upper statosphere some people were doing before 2020 ... like calkstone particles ... but then perhaps the ikdurians did not even need the help as being able to use smixzens brumshens technology to build into themselves the particles what are being thrown towards oneself mmh... a slight intrusion of dystopian reality focussed fear ideas is creeping in and so again ruined the fantasy approach here ... why should andreas help these so called scientists who do pollute more to test what we needed to do eventually... they do not like the idea to have to do it but still prepare for the case ... why should i help these people ... plant some more trees i say its the best thing we can do for the future ... trees what make forests where earth is save from these stupid machinery what wants to dictate not only the earth but also the airways now too we are not gardeners for earth our cutting of plants is not a good thing why have we got teeth if we need knives or better said why do human beings use so many knives to harm so many plants when it would be possible to live together on some 10 percent of the global landmasses in closed loop communities where no pollution no waste no exploitation of fellow animal or plant happens but the symbiosis between microalgae and human beings are being researched in exoskeleton projects humanity needs to leave nature alone, the earth is a living being what knows very well how much sunshine she needs or how much clouds she needs to produce to block sunshine its stupid of humans to think that we have the right to mess so intently with her biorythm it will only bring terror and death not to all of humanity but to many as we have not yet tried out to really change our ways the plastic garbage is still not emptied ... like i have not seen corporations investing a hundred billion of their dozens of trillions savings ...

the producer of plastic products ... how much is their annual profits searching for "profits global plastic industry" i find a projection of the global plastic market being worth more than 600 billion in 2020 ... a year lets assume a modest profit of 3 percent ... makes 18 billion dollars or euro or swiss francs a year people private citizens somewhere in the world put into their saving accounts or buy another villa with it profits from a product what gets tossed into nature by the less fortunate the ones whose only satisfaction it is to save the ten meters to the next bin and chuck the plastic bottle into the sea when drunk as a protest against the establishment ... would they throw it against the real person having three million dollar cars in his or her garage .. the producer of this plastic bottle perhaps ... what do i say ... the owner of the company producing this bottle now thrown to nature as compensation for being not happy with the current market capitalism anyway ... 3 percent profits make 18 billion dollars per year people theoreticly could invest to fish out some more plastics out of the oceans to save some more animals life and help earth digest all this junk but then again, i have in the last storyline ... oh what am i doing now ... listing all the good ideas from the last storyline ... not bad but also not real clever especially now in this blogger hoppala style i am not dreamish enough to think of a positive reason why ascende should want to fly with maimary in the stratosphere ... mmh... perhaps to bath in the sunlight with its magnificent colours ...

so lets forget about this damned geoengineering stupidity and wait for some andreas having a beautiful mind again so he can probably imagine a better reason to go up there to the stratosphere with a maimary what itself is also alive celled in 2030 in the meantime ... ha ... a mean time talking this metastuff ... i cut some old paintings of mine into single pieces what eventually could be used to illustrate this sixth storyline
